Mr. Sayak Chakraborty, Adv.
…for the Receiver

The Court: This matter has appeared at the instance of the Receiver, Mr. Dipak Deb, Senior Advocate, who is presently not keeping well and wishes to be discharged from the said Receivership.

I have heard parties appearing in this matter and accordingly, I discharge Mr. Dipak Deb as Receiver in this matter. It transpires that a fixed deposit wherein a sum of Rs.1,14,00,000/- odd is lying with the Punjab National Bank, High Court Branch. Mr. Paritosh Sinha, Advocate, is appointed as the new Receiver and is directed to take over the said fixed deposit after compliance of all the modalities. Mr. Dipak Deb is directed to assist in the same and ensure that the transfer is made to the new Receiver. I am given to understand that a nominal fees was paid to Mr. Dipak Deb.

In light of the fact that Mr. Dipak Deb is not keeping well, I direct the Branch Manager of Punjab National Bank, High Court Branch to encash the amount lying in the fixed deposit and hand over the same to Mr. Paritosh Sinha.

Mr. Paritosh Sinha is directed to pay a sum of Rs.1,25,000/- to Mr. Dipak Deb and put the balance in an interest bearing fixed deposit account with the same bank on the same terms and conditions.
